OrganoClick Wins Environmental Innovation Award

Sweden, 4 April 2008 – OrganoClick won the Swedish environmental innovation award “Miljöinnovation 2008”. The prize was given out at a ceremony in Halmstad the 3rd of April 2008. As one out of 15 finalists, selected from approximate 90 applicants, the jury decided that OrganoClick’s technology for environmentally friendly modification of cellulose was the idea that could give the biggest impact on the environment, and with the biggest commercial potential.
